

Falun Dafa in Taiwan

Southern Taiwan

In the park

While the brutal persecution of Falun Gong is going on in mainland China, the practice is quickly spreading in Taiwan. In just two years, the number of practitioners grew from 5,000 to 100,000. People in Taiwan warmly welcome this genuine practice. Why is Falun Gong being treated so differently in these two places that share the same Chinese tradition and culture? In Taiwan, people enjoy their right to freedom of belief, freedom of association, and freedom of speech, but in China, people are deprived of these basic human rights.

In a primary school

Yangmin Mountain park

Children practicing